Child Protection & Safeguarding Policy

1. Policy Statement

- 1.1. This policy is the Child Protection & Safeguarding Policy of City of Sunderland College trading as: Sunderland College, Hartlepool Sixth Form and Northumberland College. These colleges will be referred to as “The College” throughout this document.
- 1.2. The College fully recognises and accepts that it has a statutory and moral duty to ensure that the College functions with a view to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children/young people and vulnerable adults receiving education and training at the College. This includes ensuring they have support in situations where they could come into harm, be abused, be radicalised or drawn into extremism.
- 1.3. The College endeavours to create and maintain a safe learning environment for all students. The College has a strategic safeguarding lead within the Senior Leadership Team together with a deputy/operational designated safeguarding lead, designated safeguarding leads and designated staff to ensure appropriate protocols are in place. Any identified concerns or requests for early support and intervention can be addressed and supported in partnership with other agencies as appropriate.
- 1.4. The Safeguarding Policy (including Prevent) covers all members of the College community but highlights specific reference to safeguarding children and vulnerable adults. Definitions of these categories are as follows:

1.4.1. The broad definition of a ‘child’ is:

‘Anyone who has not reached their 18th birthday. ‘Children’ therefore means ‘children and young people’.

The fact that a child has reached 16 years of age, is living independently or is in further education, does not change his or her status or entitlement to services or protection under the Children Act 1989.’ (Working Together to Safeguard Children: A guide to inter-agency working to safeguard and promote the welfare of children 2018).

Care experienced students (Cared For and Care Leavers) and students with special educational needs up to age 25 may also need additional services, assistance, protection and consideration.

1.4.2. The broad definition of a ‘vulnerable adult’ is:

‘Those adults who are or maybe in need of community care services by reason of mental or other disability, age or illness’ and who may be unable to take care of, or unable to protect themselves, against significant harm or exploitation (Department of Health 2000).

The definition of vulnerable adults includes, but is not exclusive to, individuals with any of the following:

- Learning Difficulties
- Physical Impairments
- Sensory Impairments
- Mental Health Needs
- Aged Related Frailty
- Dementia
- Brain Injuries
- Drug or Alcohol Problems

- 1.5. The policy is available on the college's website and is shared with staff annually as part of safeguarding bulletins and held electronically on the staff intranet.
- 1.6. Information on our Safeguarding Policy is provided to all visitors and a copy of the policy is available on request.

2. Scope

- 2.1. This Policy applies to all those working in, studying and visiting any College site including students, the College workforce, Governors, volunteers and visitors to the College including contracted services such as agency staff, employers offering work placements, transportation companies, sub-contractors and contractors with direct access to children, young people and vulnerable adults.
- 2.2. Students aged 14-16 whose main education provider is a School are covered by all aspects of the Policy when at the College. In accordance with agreed partnership protocols, there is a separate procedure for Child Protection referrals as schools retain accountability for external referrals. Appendix 9.6 details the safeguarding procedure for the '14-16 Building Careers Programme' Should there be an emergency and the College is unable to contact the appropriate school, the College will apply its referral procedures to the situation to ensure a child is safe.
- 2.3. Employers and sub-contractors will be asked to make a commitment to safeguarding students' welfare by endorsing an agreed statement of principles. Any person whose normal duties include regular caring for, training, looking after or supervising a child in the workplace where that person has been specifically designated to have responsibility for such activities will be subjected to vetting and DBS checking. Providers will be monitored annually for compliance with process and must report any incidents to the college for any subcontracted provision. For employers providing apprenticeship and/or industry placements, DBS checking will be undertaken on a risk-based approach.
- 2.4. For apprenticeships and long-term placements, the College will ensure that additional safeguards are in place, these must include staff who will have had training in child protection, completing risk assessments and arranging placements.

3. Aims of the Policy/Underpinning Principles

5. Implementation

5.1 Key Terms

5.1.1 : Significant Harm

The concept of significant harm is the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention into family life in the best interests of the child or young person and gives local authorities a duty to make enquires as to whether to take action (Section 47, Children Act 1989) to safeguard or promote the welfare of a young person who is suffering, or likely to suffer significant harm. The Act also gives powers to the Police known as Police Powers of Protection to take emergency action to protect a young person from significant harm. In the absence of Police Powers of Protection, the Local Authority can apply to the Court to secure an Emergency Protection Order.

5.1.2 : Abuse and neglect

Abuse and neglect are forms of maltreatment. Somebody may abuse or neglect by inflicting harm, or by failing to act to prevent harm. Individuals may be abused in a family or in an organisational or community setting, by those known to them or, more rarely, by a stranger, for example via the internet. They may be abused by an adult or adults, or another child or children.

Harm can include ill treatment that is not physical as well as the impact of witnessing ill treatment of others. This can be particularly relevant, for example, in relation to the impact on children of all forms of domestic abuse.

5.1.3 : Physical abuse

Physical abuse may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating, or otherwise causing physical harm to an individual. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms or deliberately induces, illness in an individual. For vulnerable adults, this may also include inappropriate restraint or sanction or the misuse of medication.

5.1.4 : Emotional abuse

Emotional abuse is the persistent emotional maltreatment of an individual such as to cause severe and persistent adverse effects on their emotional development. It may involve conveying to an individual that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on an individual. These may include interactions that are beyond the individual's development capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyber bullying), causing an individual frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of an individual. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in an all types of maltreatment of an individual, though it may occur alone.

5.1.5 : Sexual abuse

Sexual abuse involves forcing or enticing a child, young person or vulnerable adult to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving a high level of violence, whether or not the individual is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example, rape or oral sex) or non- penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching outside of clothing. They may also include non-contact activities, such as involving an individual in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging an individual to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse (including via the internet). Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can children.

5.1.6 : Neglect

Neglect is the persistent failure to meet a child, young person or vulnerable adult's basic physical and / or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of their health or development. Neglect may occur during pregnancy as a result of material substance abuse. Neglect may involve a parent or carer failing to:

- provide adequate food, clothing and shelter (including exclusion from home or abandonment);
- protect an individual from physical and emotional harm or danger;
- ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate care-givers);
- ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment.

It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, basic emotional needs.

5.1.7 Self-Neglect

Self-neglect is neglecting to care for one's own personal hygiene, health or surroundings. Self-neglect includes the following:

- lack of self-care – neglect of personal hygiene, nutrition, hydration and/or health, thereby endangering safety and wellbeing.
- lack of care of one's environment – squalor and hoarding.
- refusal of services that would mitigate risk of harm.

5.1.8 Child Sexual Exploitation (CSE), Missing & Sexually Exploited and Trafficked – MSET (Sunderland), Vulnerable, Exploited, Missing and Trafficked – VEMT (Hartlepool) Child Sexual Exploitation - CSE (Northumberland)

Sexual exploitation of children and young people under 18 involves exploitative situations, contexts and relationships where young people (or a third person or persons) receive 'something' (e.g. food, accommodation, drugs, alcohol, cigarettes, affection, gifts, money) as a result of them performing, and/or another or others performing on them, sexual activities. Sexual exploitation is often linked to periods of going missing from home or education and, in some cases, individuals may be trafficked.

Child sexual exploitation can occur through the use of technology without the child or young person's immediate recognition; for example being persuaded to post sexual images on the Internet/mobile phones without immediate payment or gain. In all cases, those exploiting the child/young person have power over them by virtue of their age, gender, intellect, physical strength and/or economic or other resources.

Violence, coercion and intimidation are common, involvement in exploitative relationships being characterised in the main by the child or young person's limited availability of choice resulting from their social/economic and/or emotional vulnerability.

5.1.9 Female Genital Mutilation (FGM)

Female genital mutilation (sometimes referred to as female circumcision) refers to procedures that intentionally alter or cause injury to the female genital organs for non- medical reasons. The practice is illegal in the UK. An estimated 137,000 women in the UK are affected by female genital mutilation (FGM), however the true extent is unknown, due to the "hidden" nature of the crime. The girls may be taken to their countries of origin so that FGM can be carried out during the summer holidays, allowing them time to "heal" before their return to school. There are also worries that some girls may have FGM performed in the UK.

5.1.10 Forced Marriage

Forced marriage is an offence, and different to an arranged marriage where both parties consent.

A Forced marriage is when a person is likely to face physical pressure such as threats, physical or sexual violence or emotional/psychological pressure.

A forced marriage protection order can be applied for to protect anyone who is being forced into a marriage.

5.1.11 Honour-based violence

Honour-based violence is a crime or incident which may have been committed to protect or defend the honour of the family and/or the community when it is believed a person has shamed the family and/or the community by breaking the honour code.

Honour based violence can encompass various offences which are used to control behaviours within families or social groups to protect perceived cultural and religious beliefs and/or honour. Honour based violence can include such things as forced marriage, domestic abuse, sexual harassment, sexual violence and threats to kill (this list is not exhaustive).

5.1.12 Domestic Abuse

Children and young people can be significantly harmed by Domestic abuse, both physically and emotionally. Children and young people do not necessarily need to be in the same room to be affected by Domestic abuse as often being in another room has an impact on their emotional wellbeing. It can impact children and young people through seeing, hearing or experiencing the effects of domestic abuse and/or experiencing it through their own intimate relationships.

Abusive behaviours can occur in any relationship and both men and women can be abusers. Domestic abuse is a type of controlling, bullying, threatening or violent behaviour. Domestic abuse is not only physical violence, it includes emotional, physical, financial, sexual and psychological abuse.

If young people have witnessed Domestic abuse, they may be at risk of entering into an abusive relationship or being perpetrators of domestic abuse. Witnessing domestic abuse is child abuse. Teenagers can suffer domestic abuse in their relationships.

5.1.13 Operation Encompass

Operation Encompass is a police and education early information sharing partnership enabling education providers to offer immediate support for children and young people experiencing domestic abuse. Information is shared by the police with a trained Key Adult (DSL) prior to the start of the next school/college day after officers have attended a domestic abuse incident, thus enabling appropriate support to be given.

5.1.14 Financial or Material Abuse

Financial or material abuse may include theft, fraud, exploitation and/or pressure in connection with money or material possessions. This may also include loss of jewellery or personal property and loss of money from a wallet or purse

5.1.15 Organisational Abuse

Organisational abuse includes the practice of an abusive regime or culture which destroys the dignity and respect to which every person is entitled. It is the mistreatment of people brought about by poor or inadequate care or support, and poor practice, that affects the whole setting. It occurs when the individual's wishes and needs are sacrificed for the smooth running of a group, service or organisation.

5.1.16 Online Abuse, Cyberbullying & Grooming

Online abuse, cyberbullying and grooming are types of abuse that happen via the internet. Children and young people are at risk of online abuse by playing games, social networks and using mobile phones. Online abuse can occur at any time of the day and this can even impact when a young person is in their safe space, for example their bedroom. Online abuse may involve blackmail, sexting, sexual exploitation or distribution of images.

When a child or young person is being groomed, online accounts are ways in which the perpetrator can form trusting relationships with the intention of meeting up with the young person.

The College will use communication with parents/carers to reinforce the importance of children/young people being safe online and provide them with information on:

- What systems we have in place to filter and monitor online use
- What we are asking their child to do online, including the sites they will be asked to access
- Who from the college their child is going to be interacting with online

5.1.17 Child on Child Abuse

All Staff should be aware of the signs of abuse and neglect so that they can identify children who may need help or protection. The College recognises that children are capable of abusing their peers. Child on child abuse can take many forms and some types can be gender specific. should be aware of the signs of abuse and neglect so that they can identify children who may need help or protection.

Child on child abuse is most likely to include, but may not be limited to:

- bullying (including cyberbullying, prejudice-based and discriminatory bullying);
- abuse in intimate personal relationships between peers;
- physical abuse such as hitting, kicking, shaking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm (this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages physical abuse);
- sexual violence, such as rape, assault by penetration and sexual assault; (this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages sexual violence);
- sexual harassment, such as sexual comments, remarks, jokes and online sexual harassment, which may be standalone or part of a broader pattern of abuse;
- causing someone to engage in sexual activity without consent, such as forcing someone to strip, touch themselves sexually, or to engage in sexual activity with a third party;
- consensual and non-consensual sharing of nudes and semi nudes images and or videos (also known as sexting or youth produced sexual imagery);
- upskirting, which typically involves taking a picture under a person's clothing without their permission, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks to obtain sexual gratification, or cause the victim humiliation, distress or alarm; and
- • initiation/hazing type violence and rituals (this could include activities involving harassment, abuse or humiliation used as a way of initiating a person into a group and may also include an online element).

Child on child abuse is any form of physical, sexual, emotional and financial abuse, and coercive control, exercised between young people and within young people's relationships (both intimate and non-intimate). These types of abuse rarely take place in isolation and often indicate wider safeguarding concerns. For example, a teenage girl may be in a sexually exploitative relationship with a teenage boy who is himself being physically abused by a family member or by older boys. Equally, sexual bullying in education settings can result in the sexual exploitation of children by their peers. For a young person who is in an abusive relationship, what may appear to be a case of domestic violence may also involve sexual exploitation. Young people's experiences of abuse and violence are rarely isolated events, and they can often be linked to other things that are happening in their lives and spaces in which they spend their time. Any response to peer-on-peer abuse therefore needs to consider the range of possible types of child-on-child abuse set out above and capture the full context of that young person's experiences. The College does this by adopting a contextual safeguarding approach and ensuring that our response to incidents of peer-on-peer abuse takes into account any potential complexity.

Abuse is abuse and should never be tolerated or passed off as “banter” or “part of growing up”. See Anti-Bullying Policy (included as Appendix 9.) 5 for procedure in dealing with child-on-child abuse.

5.1.18 Serious Violence

All staff should be aware of the indicators, which may signal children are at risk from, or are involved with serious violent crime. These may include increased absence from education, a change in friendships or relationships with older individuals or groups, a significant decline in performance, signs of self-harm or a significant change in wellbeing, or signs of assault or unexplained injuries. Unexplained gifts or new possessions could also indicate that children have been approached by, or are involved with, individuals associated with criminal networks or gangs and may be at risk of criminal exploitation. There are a range of risk indicators which increase the likelihood of involvement in serious violence, including being male, having been frequently absent or permanently excluded from school, having experienced child maltreatment and having been involved in offending, such as theft or robbery. Advice to schools and colleges on gangs and youth violence - GOV.UK \(www.gov.uk\)

5.1.19 County lines

County lines is the term used by police and law enforcement to describe the approach taken by criminal groups originating from urban areas across the country to sell drugs and conduct other criminal activities.

Gangs typically use children and vulnerable people to deliver drugs to customers and this often involves deception, intimidation, violence, debt bondage and/or grooming. Criminal exploitation of children and vulnerable adults: county lines - GOV.UK \(www.gov.uk\)

5.1.20 Child trafficking

Child trafficking is where a person under the age of 18 years old has been recruited, is transported / transferred or is being harboured. Children and young people can also be sold on for these purposes. Children who are trafficked can also be at risk of sexual exploitation.

5.1.21 Modern Slavery

Modern Slavery is the term used within the UK and is defined within the Modern Slavery Act 2015. The Act categorises offences of Slavery, Servitude and Forced or Compulsory Labour and Human Trafficking (which comes from the Palermo Protocol).

These crimes include holding a person in a position of slavery, servitude forced or compulsory labour, or facilitating their travel with the intention of exploiting them soon after.

Although human trafficking often involves an international cross-border element, it is also possible to be a victim of modern slavery within your own country.

It is possible to be a victim even if consent has been given to be moved.

5.1.22 Harmful sexual behaviour

Harmful sexual behaviour is where a child or young person uses power and control as well as inappropriate touching, sexual violence and threats, and/or explicit words and phrases.

However, context around the behaviours are to be ascertained as some behaviours may be deemed within the normal parameters of their age and development. They can be identified through the use of the NSPCC harmful sexual behaviour framework tool. Harmful sexual behaviour framework | NSPCC Learning

5.1.23 Upskirting

The Voyeurism (Offences) Act 2019, which is commonly known as the Upskirting Act, came into force on 12 April 2019. 'Upskirting', typically involves taking a picture under a person's clothing without them knowing, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks to obtain sexual gratification, or cause the victim humiliation, distress or alarm. It is now a criminal offence.

5.1.24 Prevent Duty

The College workforce and governors must have due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism in accordance with the Counter Terrorism and Security Act 2015.

5.1.25 Discriminatory

This may include abuse, bullying and harassment based upon the individual's age, sex, disability, religion, race or sexual orientation (DoH 2000).

5.1.26 Radicalisation

The process by which a person comes to support terrorism and forms of extremism leading to terrorism (Prevent Strategy.Gov.uk).

5.1.27 Extremism

Extremism is where extreme views are considered politically or religiously outside the main attitudes of society.

5.1.28 Abuse of Trust:

Under the Sexual Offenders Act 2003, it is an offence for a person over 18 to have a sexual relationship with a young person under 18 where that person is in a position of trust in respect of that young person, even if the relationship is consensual. This includes teaching and a range of support staff within educational establishments.

5.1.29 Children in Need of Protection

Some children and young people are in need of Protection because they are suffering or likely to suffer “significant harm”. Where local authorities believe a young person is suffering, or likely to suffer, significant harm, they have a duty to make enquiries to decide whether they should take action to safeguard or promote the welfare of a young person under Section 47 guidance.

5.1.30 Children in Need

Children and young people who are defined as being “in need” under Section 17 of the Children Act 1989, are those whose vulnerability is such that they are unlikely to reach or maintain a satisfactory level of health or development, or their health and development will be significantly impaired, without the provision of service(s). A child with a disability is a child in need.

5.1.31 Cared For Children

The most common reason for children becoming looked after is as a result of abuse and/or neglect. Governing bodies and the College will ensure that staff have the skills, knowledge and understanding necessary to keeping looked after children safe. The appropriate staff will have the information they need in relation to a child’s looked after legal status (whether they are looked after under voluntary arrangements with consent of parents or on an interim or full care order) and contact arrangements with birth parents or those with parental responsibility. They will also have information about the child’s care arrangements and the levels of authority delegated to the carer by the authority looking after them. The designated person for looked after children will ensure that the designated safeguarding lead will have details of the child’s social worker and the name of the virtual school head in the authority that looks after the child.

5.1.32 Children Leaving Care

A child or young person stops being looked after if they are adopted, return home or reach the age of 18 years old. Once the young person reaches the age of 18, the Local Authority have a duty of care to support them until they are at least 21, however the support ends when the person reaches the age of 25.

5.1.33 Toxic Trio

The toxic trio is a term which describes a combination of issues which impact on a parent/carer and their ability to meet the basic needs of the child or young person. The three issues are domestic abuse, mental health and drug and alcohol misuse. Working Together 2015 have noted these issues rarely exist in isolation, hence the term toxic trio.

5.1.34 Information Sharing

Information sharing is vital in identifying and tackling all forms of abuse. Whilst the Data Protection Act 2018 places duties on organisations to process personal information fairly and lawfully and to keep the information they hold safe and secure, this is not a barrier to sharing information where the failure to do so would result in a child being placed at risk of harm. Fears about sharing information cannot be allowed to stand in the way of the need to promote the welfare and protect the safety of children.

Where a child/young person leaves the college, the designated safeguarding lead will ensure their child protection file is transferred to the new provider as soon as possible, ensuring secure transit, and confirmation of receipt should be obtained.

In addition to the child protection file, the designated safeguarding lead will also consider if it would be appropriate to share any information with their new provider in advance of a child leaving. For example, information that would allow the new provider to continue supporting victims of abuse and have that support in place for when the child/young person arrives.

5.1.35 Operation Divan

Operation Divan was initially launched at the beginning of February 2019 in order to address knife crime amongst juveniles within the Northern Area Command. The operation is being trialled by the Youth Offending Team. This operation has been implemented in North Yorkshire Police and has already having an impact in educating young people about knife crime and the law around knives. Although this has been aimed at juveniles under the age of 18 this could be adapted for adults.

This Process will be used where a juvenile under the age of 18 has been identified through the intelligence system and where a crime has not been committed or a juvenile has been no further actioned for a crime involving a knife or pointed bladed article.

Appendix 9.4: PREVENT Duty for FE Colleges

Prevent is 1 of the 4 elements of CONTEST, the government's counter-terrorism strategy. It aims to stop people becoming terrorists or supporting terrorism.

The Prevent strategy:

- responds to the ideological challenge we face from terrorism and aspects of extremism, and the threat we face from those who promote these views
- provides practical help to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism and ensure they are given appropriate advice and support
- works with a wide range of sectors (including education, criminal justice, faith, charities, online and health) where there are risks of radicalisation that we need to deal with

The strategy covers all forms of terrorism, including far right extremism and some aspects of non-violent extremism.

The Home Office works with local authorities, a wide range of government departments, and community organisations to deliver the Prevent strategy. The police also play a significant role in Prevent, in much the same way as they do when taking a preventative approach to other crimes.

The Home Office uses a range of measures to challenge extremism in the UK, including:

- where necessary, preventing apologists for terrorism and extremism from travelling to this country
- giving guidance to local authorities and institutions to understand the threat from extremism and the statutory powers available to them to challenge extremist speakers
- funding a specialist police unit which works to remove online content that breaches terrorist legislation
- supporting community-based campaigns and activity which can effectively rebut terrorist and extremist propaganda and offer alternative views to our most vulnerable target audiences - in this context they work with a range of civil society organisations
- supporting people who are at risk of being drawn into terrorist activity through the Channel process, which involves several agencies working together to give individuals access to services such as health and education, specialist mentoring and diversionary activities.

This Act places a duty on specified authorities including Further and Higher Education, to have due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism (the Prevent Duty).

The College is committed to supporting vulnerable students through its safeguarding policies and procedures and recognises that this can support the College's contribution to the Prevent duty.

The College works in partnership with the BIS Regional FE/HE Prevent Co-ordinator and is represented at silver level within the Local Authority task groups.

All students will be given information about radicalisation and extremism, they will have a safe place to discuss the risk relating to their communities and they will know where to go to ask for help.

Under the Prevent Duty, the College will ensure all staff have the skills and knowledge to refer any concerns appropriately. Designated safeguarding staff will be trained to recognise when it is appropriate to make a referral to the Channel Programme to support students who may be vulnerable to such influences and where we believe a student is being directly influenced by extremist materials or influences.

It is unacceptable to download or transmit any material which might reasonably be considered obscene, abusive, sexist, racist, defamatory, related to violent extremism or terrorism or which is intended to annoy, harass or intimidate another person. This also applies to use of social media systems accessed from College systems.

The College has systems in place for assessing and rating risks. Risk assessments for planned events, including off site events, external visitors and speakers to mitigate any risk and clearly set out what is required for any event to proceed.

Contact with external services

Referral for any issue concerning potential radicalisation to extremism should be managed as any other safeguarding referral, safeguarding staff will then refer any concerning information using agreed referral pathway.

The College's Single Point of Contact (SPOC) for Prevent is Vikkie Morton, Vice Principal Curriculum & Student Services as the strategic designated safeguarding lead. In their absence, the next point of contact is Ruth Magnus, Director of Student Services in their role as Deputy strategic designated safeguarding lead.

5. Implementation

5.2 Definitions

5.1.1: Bullying

“Bullying is behaviour by an individual or group, repeated over time, that intentionally hurts another individual or group either physically or emotionally. Bullying can take many forms (for instance cyber-bullying via text messages, social media or gaming, which can include the use of images and video) and is often motivated by prejudice against particular groups, for example on the grounds of race, religion, gender, sexual orientation, special educational needs or disabilities, or because a child is adopted, in care or has caring responsibilities. It might be motivated by actual differences between children or perceived differences.” (DfE)

Bullying generally involves an imbalance of power between the perpetrator and the victim. This could involve perpetrators having control over the relationship which makes it difficult for those they bully to defend themselves. The imbalance of power can manifest itself in different ways, whether physical, psychological (knowing what upsets someone), derive from an intellectual imbalance or by having access to the support of a group, or the capacity to socially isolate. It can result in the intimidation of a person or persons through the threat of violence or by isolating them either physically or online.

Bullying can be :

- Emotional/Psychological – being unfriendly, tormenting, threatening language, excluding, persistent teasing or harassment.
- Physical – pushing, kicking, hitting, punching or any use of physical violence.
- Racist or Religious – hurtful behaviour, both physical and psychological, that makes a person feel unwelcome, marginalised, excluded, powerless or worthless because of their colour, ethnicity, culture, faith community or national status.
- Sexual – includes any behaviour, whether physical or non-physical, where sexuality is used as a weapon. It includes unwanted physical contact or sexually abusive comments.
- Transphobic – bullying because someone is or is thought to be transgender.
- Homophobic – targets someone because of their sexual orientation (or perceived sexual orientation).
- Verbal – name calling, sarcasm, spreading rumours, teasing.
- Cyber – all areas of internet, including social networking, email and chatroom misuse. Threats/abuse by text messaging or calls from any mobile device. Misuse of associated technology e.g. phones, tablet, camera, video.

5.1.2 :Child on Child Abuse

All staff should be aware of the signs of abuse and neglect so that they can identify children who may be in need of help or protection. The College recognises that students, irrespective of age, are capable of abusing their peers. Child on child abuse can take many forms and some types can be gender specific. It can include bullying (including cyberbullying), gender based violence, assault and sexting. Abuse is abuse and should never be tolerated or passed off as “banter” or “part of growing up”.

5.1.3 Banter

Banter is defined as ‘the playful and friendly exchange of teasing remarks is seen as a form of humour’. Banter can become a bullying activity when it is directed at an individual, is persistent and offensive to them. Low level disruption and the use of offensive language can in itself have a significant impact on its target. If left unchallenged or dismissed as banter or horseplay, it can also lead to reluctance to report other behaviour.

5.2 Responding to bullying

When bullying does occur, a clear and consistent approach is essential. The College has a responsibility to respond promptly and effectively to all issues of bullying. Bullying hurts and has long term consequences for the victim and the bully. Everybody has the right to be treated with respect and no one deserves to be a victim of bullying. Students who are bullying others need to learn different ways of behaving. The aims of our response to bullying should be:

- Make the victim/alleged victim safe
- Stop the bullying immediately
- Change bullying behaviours in individuals and groups
- Make clear to every student that bullying is unacceptable.
- Reinforce the anti-bullying message through curriculum activities, events and campaigns.

5.3 Signs of bullying

All College staff should be aware and alert to the possible signs which could include an individual :

- Being frightened of walking to or from college
- Not wanting to go on their usual mode of transport
- Changing their usual routine
- Being unwilling to go home
- Unwilling to attend college, having poor attendance or showing changes to a usual good attendance record
- Becoming withdrawn, anxious or lacking in confidence
- Self-harming behaviours
- Talking about feeling suicidal or attempting suicide
- Running away/going missing
- Showing signs that their college work is suffering
- Having personal possessions damaged or being taken/going missing
- Having unexplained physical injuries
- Becoming aggressive, disruptive or unreasonable
- Bullying other students
- Showing changes in their eating habits
- Being frightened to say what's wrong
- Giving improbable excuses for any of the above
- Being afraid to use the internet or mobile phone
- Being nervous or jumpy when a cyber/digital message is received

These signs could indicate other safeguarding concerns, but bullying should be considered a possibility and should be investigated.

5.4 Sexual violence and Sexual Harassment

Sexual violence and sexual harassment can occur between two people of any age and sex. It can also occur through a group of people sexually assaulting or sexually harassing an individual or group of people.

People who are victims of sexual violence or harassment will likely find the experience stressful and distressing. This will, in all likelihood, adversely affect their educational attainment. Sexual violence and sexual harassment exist on a continuum and may overlap; they can occur online and offline (both physically and verbally) and are never acceptable. It is important that all victims are taken seriously and offered appropriate support.

Being subjected to harassment, violence and/or abuse, may breach a child/young person's rights, as set out in the Human Rights Act.

The College ensures that:

- We make clear that sexual violence and sexual harassment are not acceptable, will never be tolerated and is not an inevitable part of growing up.
- We do not tolerate or dismiss sexual violence or sexual harassment as 'banter' 'part of growing up' 'just having a laugh' or 'boys being boys'.
- We challenge behaviour (potentially criminal in nature) such as grabbing bottoms, breasts and genitalia and flicking bras and lifting up skirts. Dismissing or tolerating such behaviours risks normalising them.
- Understanding that all of the above can be driven by wider societal factors beyond the College, such as everyday sexist stereotypes and everyday sexual language and challenging these wider factors through our Personal Development Programme.

Consideration must always be given when investigating bullying concerns around sexual violence and sexual harassment. Any allegation or concern must be taken seriously and reported to the Safeguarding Team through MyConcern.

6. Procedures

6.1 All incidents must be reported via MyConcern.

6.2 A member of the Anti-bullying Team (DSOs) will determine how the incident should be dealt with and which staff would be involved.

6.3 The member of staff assigned to investigate the bullying incident should arrange to meet with the alleged victim/s as soon as possible to understand the nature of the concern.

6.4 The starting point for any intervention should be to talk to the student/s who has alleged they have been bullied in order to establish what has happened and agree a way forward.

6.5 The member of staff must make time to listen calmly to the alleged victim without making personal judgments and then agree an action plan with the student's consent.

6.6 The member of staff who is asked to investigate should also arrange where appropriate to meet with the alleged perpetrator/s to discuss the nature of the concern. The member of staff may also gather physical evidence to help the investigation. This may include, but is not limited to, requesting access to a student's College IT profile.

6.7 For those under the age of 18, parents/carers of students involved should be contacted, wherever possible.

6.8 Following initial information gathering/investigation, the investigating officer will determine if the Behaviour for Success Policy will need to be instigated.

6.9 The College will always work with the victim/s and perpetrator/s to build resilience and to identify where behaviours may need to be changed.

6.10 The member of staff investigating should always consider whether intervention has secured lasting change and regularly review the actions put in place. They should always continue to monitor the situation and follow up with the victim/s to ensure that the bullying has stopped and that they feel safe.

6.11 If the individual is an apprentice and bullying is taking place in the workplace, then the Assessor must intervene immediately to safeguard the apprentice.
